

LINKS GOLF

Nestled among the coastal dunes just metres from the spectacular Victorian Surf Coast, the exceptional Barwon Heads Golf Club is one of the most appealing regional layouts in Australia.

Undulating fairways, strategic bunkers, slick greens and testing winds all combine to present both a challenging and visual delight.

The course is ranked in Australia's top 10 public access courses by multiple golfing publications and its magnificent par three 13th hole has been inducted into Australian Golf Digest's 'Iconic Holes' hall of fame.

With 18 holes of links golf, a Par 3 course, driving range, state-of-the-art coaching facility, short-game practice area and a Pro Shop, it is golf at its very best. For stay and play bookings email: reservations@bhgc.com.au or call reception on (+61) 03 5255 6255.

Considered by many to be Australia's first true links course, the club is celebrated for the yesteryear experience it offers as much as for the game itself.

Since its creation in 1907, the Barwon Heads Golf Club has been considered among the finest in the country. The course planning over this time has resisted change for the sake of change. Rather, it has sought to preserve the brilliant natural contours of the landscape that shape the holes amid the sand dunes. This is one of the most alluring features of the course.

"The course, which opened in 1922, is the only course in Australia of the 1920s and 30s based on the design of coastal golf course architecture in Scotland. Historically it is linked to the world's most famous golf course designer of that time, Dr Alister Mackenzie, who consulted on its design in 1931." (National Trust of Australia (Victoria) Classification Report)
